From butterfly wings inspiring the development of mobile device displays to the shape of a kingfisher bird’s body improving the design of Japan’s bullet train, nature has been inspiring humans to build better and smarter for generations. Innovation based on observations of nature, plants, and animals is called biomimicry. This introduction to the fascinating topic of biomimicry is filled with stunning photographs and amazing facts to encourage engagement and spark curiosity in early readers. There’s a copy in the Heath Village library and you will have an opportunity to purchase your own book, and Kathy will sign it for you. Great gifts for the holidays. Hope you will come and support Kathy. Light refreshments will be served.
